

Wittgenstein and Hegel on the Foundations of Logic (University of Vienna, Schenkenstraße 8-10)

	11. September 23		12. September 23		13. September 23
	room 5 (1st floor)	room 2 (ground floor)	room 5 (1st floor)	room 2 (ground floor)	room 5 (1st floor)	room 2 (ground floor)
09:40 – 10:00	Welcome by the Organizers (Room 5, 1st floor)
10:00 – 10:50	Truth and (Un)Provability Denis Kaidalov (Charles University)		The Method of Absolute Negativity as a Foundation of Logic in Wittgenstein and Hegel Alexander Berg (University of Zurich)		Hinge Propositions as Groundless Grounds: Wittgenstein and Hegel on the Nature of Logical Principles Bruna Picas (University of Barcelona)
coffee break
11:10 – 12:00	Wittgenstein and Hegel as Idealistic Philosophers Nikolay Milkov (University of Paderborn)		Logische Gestalten: Wittgenstein und Hegel in widersprüchlicher Einigkeit. Zur Fundierung der weltspiegelnden und spekulativen Logizität. Thomas Auinger (University of Vienna)		Twice is better? 2 x 2 foundations of logic Herbert Hrachovec (University of Vienna)
coffee break
12:20 – 13:10	Elucidation and Therapy in Hegel's Logic Shuhei Kimoto (Tokyo Metropolitan University)	Logic as Foundation of Knowledge. Hegel's Conceptual Realism and Wittgenstein's Solipsistic Realism Lorenzo Cammi (University of Pittsburgh)	Towards a Homogeneity of Logical Pictures in Hegel's Logic of Being Christina Weiss (University of Darmstadt)	What identity theory of truth does Hegel hold in his Logic? Samuel Vitel (Université de Poitiers)	Logical form in the Philosophical Investigations Øystein Daae Gjertsen (Tromsø)	Wittgenstein's (Methodo)logical Nihilism Karlo Gardavski
lunch
14:50 – 15:40	The Critique of the Propositional Form in Hegelian Philosophy Marco Rienzi (Vita-Salute San Raffaele University)	On the Formalization of Hegel's Dialectic Logic Chen Yang (Purdue University)	Logic and metaphysics – remarks on Hegel and early Wittgenstein Filip Golaszewski (University of Warsaw)	The Arbitrariness of Ethics. Pursuing Wittgenstein's Suggested Analogy to Logic and Mathematics Vincent Vincke (University of Brussels)	Implicit rules and their expressibility by means of logic Pavel Arazim (Czech Academy of Sciences)	Examining the Logic of the Language Game of Religion in Wittgenstein's Later Philosophy Zoheir Bagheri Noaparast (University of Eichstätt-Ingolstadt)
coffee break
16:00 – 16:50	Irrational Reminders: Transcendence in Hegel and Wittgenstein David F. Hoinski (West Virginia University)	Wittgenstein's notion of contradiction as a hint to act and not to consider Ivo Pezlar (Masaryk University)	Reflections on the Status on Representation and Articulation of the Logical Form in Wittgenstein and Hegel Marcus Döllner (University of Erfurt)	Logic and Natural History Lucian Ionel (University of Leipzig)	The Prevalence of the Rule-Following Problem in Kant and Hegel Juan Andrés Vargas (Diego Portales University)	Wittgenstein on the Practical Foundations of Logic Michael Wee (Durham University)
coffee break
17:10 – 18:00	Hegel and Wittgenstein on Logic as First Philosophy David Lindeman (Georgetown University)	Logical Notation and Everyday Language; Salvaging the Conception of Logic Saori Makino (Tokyo Metropolitan University)	Critique of Additive Theory of Logic: Variations in Hegel and Early Wittgenstein Bangrui Chen (University of Chicago)	Universality and Self-Reference of Logic in Wittgenstein and Hegel Manuel Zelger	Contemporary Readings and Problematics of Private Language in the Works of Hegel and Wittgenstein Timur Uçan (Bordeaux Montaigne University)	Dialectics and Progress: A Comparative Examination of Hegel and Wittgenstein Anirban Mukherjee (North Bengal University)
coffee break
18:20 – 19:10	Philosophy: Therapy or Self-Science? João Esteves da Silva (University of Lisbon)	Hegel und Wittgenstein über Form und Inhalt der Logik Giuseppa Bella (University of Catania)	Logic as dance: an Analysis of Movement in the Logic of Hegel and the later Wittgenstein Sílvia Locatelli (University of Lisbon)	In Defense of the Inexpressible – Wittgenstein and Hegel on the Unspeakable Ramesh Dheeravath (University of Hyderabad)	Hegel on Logic and the "Original Word" Daniel Kuran (University of Vienna)
20:30 – 23:00	Social gathering in Lokal Zattl (Schottengasse 2)		Social gathering in Melker Stiftskeller (Schottengasse 3)		The organizers recommend a local beer garden for a social gathering.	